
DIRECTORS NOTE

We are young, we are online and we are facing millions of opportunities. It has never been as easy to act out our sexuality and individuality as today on the internet. But searching for love nowadays is a global challenge. Struggles with self-fulfillment are accompanied by dreams of finding our one true love. Who is the right one for me? Our online-image is formed by superficiality. Nevertheless millions of users, whether bi-, hetero- or homosexual, are searching for true love in dating apps. On the internet we are all individuals and that's why individuality rather seems average. In our documentary „app affairs“ we want to show the dilemma of love in our generation. A film about the desires and realities of the so called „Generation Y“